READING COMPREHENSION:
PASSAGE – I
Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow.

1. The story of Robinson Crusoe, few people know, is based on a real life incident. The son of a cobbler, Alexander Selkirk was a wayward young man, with little respect for authority. Abject conditions at sea and the cruelty of the captains made the sailors miserable in those days. It was not surprising that Alexander became rebellious and malevolent when he became a sailor.

2. In 1704, he was a Sailing Master on a ship when it anchored for repairs near the desolate island of Juan Fernandez about 650 kilometers west of Chile. They were looking for gold, which they often got by plundering other ships. In the days that followed, Alexander hatched a conspiracy. He instigated the other sailors to leave the ship and remain on the island. They would declare a mutiny. Perhaps, Alexander reasoned, that the captain would accept their demands if he believed that his men would refuse to sail otherwise. Unfortunately for Alexander, the crew played the Judas. The captain, getting to know Alexander’s part in the planned mutiny, left him behind on the island as he was a bad influence on the men. He was provided with a few necessities, among them, a copy of the Bible.

3. Alexander marooned on an island, populated only by wild cats and goats became adept at hunting and his food soon comprised fish, turtles and meat. He also made clothes with goatskin. Although a cobbler’s son, he could not make shoes. Running barefoot after goats had hardened the soles of his feet. He read the Bible again and again and slowly took to reading it aloud. He spoke and sang to the cats and learnt to milk goats.

4. Once, during his stay in the island, a Spanish ship anchored near the island and the crew rowed in. Alexander was petrified and hid in the thick foliage. In those days, Spain and England were at daggers drawn. Fortunately, the Spaniards left after a brief rest. In February, 1709, two English ships sailed in to collect fresh water and shoot goats. Alexander rushed to them for succor. He looked strange with his unkempt hair, beard and goatskin clothes. His rescuers understood him with great difficulty. His speech had changed a great deal. His vocabulary had shrunk and he had to grope for words. They did, however, manage to understand his story finally.

5. Alexander took a job as sailor in one of the ships and reached London in 1711. He returned home with a large fortune. However, he ran out of his fortune in two years and had to return to sea. Alexander’s adventure became well known. Eight years later, Daniel Defoe gave the story a new shape with many twists, calling it ‘The Adventures of Robinson Crusoe’. It was now the story of a man who was shipwrecked on an island and lived alone for an unbelievable twenty-eight years.

PASSAGE – II

Read the following passage.

1. In 1981, the car she was travelling in met with an accident and her right leg had to be amputated below the knee. It appeared that life had come to a standstill for Sudha. She walked around on crutches. But she resumed her routine life once again. She had a lot of time on her hands to ponder over the future. She was convinced that she was the master of her own life and she could mould it the way she liked.

2. Will she ever be able to dance again? This question was uppermost in the mind of everyone concerned with the future of Sudha. But Sudha had her own ideas. She was determined not to break with her career as a promising dancer. Somewhere she happened to see the “Jaipur foot”. A prosthetic expert gave her the details of this artificial leg and advised her to see the doctor who invented it. Sudha went to Jaipur along with her dancing master. She was fitted with a “Jaipur foot” and the doctor gave her immense confidence. Sudha practised dance for some time under his supervision. He made suitable changes in the ‘limb’ to facilitate her dance practice. She suffered a lot of pain in the process of the proper adjustment of the new limb. But she never lost her nerve.

3. January 24, 1984 was a memorable day in Sudha’s life. Arrangements were made for dance programme at a big hall in Bombay. A huge audience was there to see her perform again after her traumatic experience. Melodious music filled the air as the curtain went up. Sudha was back on stage. She forgot all about her accident and all about her artificial limb. Some mysterious power impelled Sudha to dance with the same form, style and vivacity that characterised her. Quite a few learnt for the first time from the next day’s newspaper that she was, in fact, dancing with an artificial leg.

1.1. On the basis of your reading of the above passage answer the following: marks

   a. Why did life come to a standstill for Sudha?
   b. What did the doctor do to help Sudha in her dance practice?
   c. Which day was a memorable day in Sudha’s life and why?

1.2. Tick the correct option in the following:

   a) A ‘prosthetic expert’ is
   i. A doctor who has specialized in preventive medicine.
   ii. A scientist who deals with the process of photosynthesis.
   iii. A surgeon who fixes artificial limbs.
   iv. A religious guru distributing herbal medicine.

   b) A ‘traumatic experience’ is
   i. An experience of delightful physical sensation.
   ii. An experience of great weakness after prolonged illness.
   iii. An experience of bodily tremor as in malaria.
   iv. An experience of shock due to wound or injury.

   c) The ‘traumatic experience’ in Sudha’s life was
   i. The experience of driving a car for the first time.
   ii. The experience of visiting Jaipur with her dancing master.
   iii. The experience of walking on crutches for the first time.
   iv. The experience of the car accident and the amputation of her right leg.

1.3. Quote a sentence from the passage, where both the incidents (i) and (ii) are mentioned:

   i. In 1981, the car she was travelling in met with an accident and her right leg had to be amputated.
   ii. She was fitted with a “Jaipur foot”.
PASSAGE – III
Read the following poem carefully:

THE GIFT OF GREED

Upon this barren land,
Once stood a great tree
In the once brown rich sand
For mortal eyes to relish and see.
Its leaves were emeralds,
Its fruits were rubies, bright and fair.
Squirrels leaped about as heralds
For the spring that was in the air.
Spring passed and autumn came to dwell.
The tree’s leaves blushed and fell,
Fluttering in the wind like a ship’s sail.
But the tree bowed not to the gale.
Winter came and did its worst,
Coated the tree with a shower of snow.
But the tree did not freeze and burst,
It stood to offer perch to the homeless sparrow.
The tree survived Nature’s ravages,
To bloom again in summer.
But came along man the savage;
Hacked it down and called it lumber.
Is it so that man, a creation
Turn upon the Creator and others?
We cut down trees, calling it deforestation
And take trees from Nature – their mother and ours.
