Canada's Postsecondary Education Systems

Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba
New Brunswick, Newfoundland and
Labrador, Northwest Territories <sup>③</sup>,
Nova Scotia, Nunavut <sup>③</sup>, Ontario,
Prince Edward Island, Saskatchewan, Yukon

1- DVS: Diploma of Vocational Studies (600 to 1,800 hours depending on the program)

2- AVS: Attestation of Vocational Specialization (300 to 1185 hours depending on the program)

① In all jurisdictions, a secondary school diploma is issued upon successful completion of the secondary school curriculum.

② Selected institutions in Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, Ontario, and Prince Edward Island offer applied degrees.

③ The Northwest Territories and Nunavut have no degree-granting institutions. Some degrees are available through partnerships. Students may also access degrees directly from institutions outside the territories.

Legend

- University Education
- College Education
- Apprenticeship

- To the job market
- Typical pathway
- Alternate pathway

Notes

(1) All colleges and universities offer certificate programs of variable length. (2) Continuing and adult education programs, while not shown on this chart, may be offered at all levels of instruction. (3) British Columbia's colleges also offer associate degrees.

You can consult the full graphic of Canada's Education Systems (in pdf) at the following address:

Questions and Answers

1. Will the studies I would like to pursue at a Canadian institution allow me to reach my career goals?

It is advised that you enquire with the competent authorities (e.g., professional organizations, higher-education institutions, government bodies, regulatory agencies governing professions) about the recognition of foreign studies in your country or in the country where you intend to continue your studies or to practise your profession. While no authority can guarantee acceptance of a foreign degree or credentials, it is a good idea to verify the probable value of such a credential before seeking admission to a university, college, or school (in Canada or elsewhere).

2. How do I find the program/institution that interests me?

The Imagine Education au/in Canada Web site at www.educationau-incanada.ca, contains information about study programs, study permit requirements, and more.

A number of provinces and territories, as well as membership associations, maintain databases of the programs offered by their institutions. Some provinces also provide a centralized on-line registration system for prospective international students. There is a list of all such resources at www.cicic.ca/679/postsecondary-programs.canada.

The Directory of Universities, Colleges and Schools in the Provinces and Territories of Canada, at www.cicic.ca/395/directory-of-universities-colleges-and-schools.canada, lists Canada's recognized, authorized, registered, and licensed institutions, with links to their Web sites, program listings, and information for international students, when available.

Which are the best universities in Canada? There is no formal ranking of universities and colleges in Canada. In fact, it is widely recognized that, across the country, postsecondary programs are remarkably uniform in quality. For a more in-depth study of recognition and accreditation procedures in Canada, see the publication Quality Assurance Practices for Postsecondary Institutions in Canada at www.cicic.ca/393/quality-assurance-in-canada.canada.

3. How to Apply?

IMPORTANT: The admission application process can take considerable time; you should start at least one year in advance to compile the necessary information and documentation.

How to get your credentials assessed: Once you have decided which universities or colleges you wish to apply to for admission, you should write directly to the institution's office of admissions (for undergraduate and college programs) or office of graduate admissions (for graduate programs) and ask for detailed application information and forms. The office of admissions will inform you of the documentation, translation, and study permit requirements. The institution's decision is usually announced four to six months after the application deadline, although this can vary from one institution to another.

In some provinces and territories, applications can be submitted electronically. Visit the following Web sites for more information:

Student visas: It is advised that you contact the nearest Canadian visa office (embassy or consulate) in your country for information about entry requirements. You can obtain information about student authorizations on Citizenship and Immigration Canada's Web site, at <http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/index.asp>

Language requirements: Most institutions in Canada require demonstration of proficiency in their language of instruction (either English or French), usually through the achievement of a certain minimum score in a standardized language test. You should confirm the details of the language requirement with the office of admissions of the university or college to which you are applying.

Study permits: It is advised that you contact the nearest Canadian visa office (embassy or consulate) in your country for information about entry requirements. You can obtain information about student authorizations on Citizenship and Immigration Canada's Web site, at www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/index.asp

Cost of education: The Imagine Education au/in Canada Web site at www.educationau-incanada.ca, will help you to calculate the cost of studying in Canada. It also contains information about study programs, study permit requirements, and more.

Questions et réponses

1. Les études que j'aimerais entreprendre au Canada me permettront-elles d'atteindre mes objectifs de carrière?

Il convient de vous informer, auprès des autorités compétentes (établissements d'études supérieures, administration publique, ordres professionnels et autres organismes réglementant les métiers et professions) de votre pays d'origine ou du pays où vous avez l'intention de poursuivre vos études par la suite ou d'exercer une profession ou un métier, si cette formation ou ces études seront reconnues. Aucune autorité ne peut garantir la reconnaissance d'un grade ou d'un diplôme étranger, mais c'est une bonne idée d'en vérifier la valeur probable avant de vous inscrire à une université, à un collège ou à une école (que ce soit au Canada ou ailleurs).

2. Comment trouver le programme et l'établissement qui m'intéressent?

Le site Web Imagine Education au/in Canada au lien www.educationau-incanada.ca, fournit des renseignements sur, entre autres sujets, les programmes d'études et les modalités d'obtention des permis d'études.

Plusieurs provinces et territoires, ainsi que diverses associations, gèrent des bases de données des programmes offerts par leurs établissements. Certaines provinces disposent également d'un guichet unique d'inscription en ligne à l'intention des étudiantes et étudiants étrangers. Nous tenons un inventaire de ces ressources au lien www.cicic.ca/680/programmes-postsecondaires.canada.

Le Répertoire des universités, collèges et écoles des provinces et territoires du Canada, au lien www.cicdi.ca/349/repertoire-des-universites-colleges-et-ecoles-du-canada.canada, donne la liste des établissements reconnus, autorisés, enregistrés et agréés au Canada, avec des liens à leur site Web, à leurs programmes et, si elles existent, aux pages s'adressant spécifiquement aux étudiantes et étudiants étrangers.

Quelles sont les meilleures universités au Canada? Il n'y a pas de système officiel de classement des universités et des collèges du Canada. En fait, on s'accorde à reconnaître que la qualité des programmes est remarquablement uniforme à travers le pays. Pour avoir une analyse plus détaillée des mécanismes de reconnaissance et d'agrément en usage au Canada, veuillez vous reporter à la publication Pratiques liées à l'assurance de la qualité dans les établissements postsecondaires au Canada au lien www.cicic.ca/347/assurance-qualite-au-canada.canada.

3. Comment faire une demande d'admission?

IMPORTANT : Les procédures d'admission peuvent prendre beaucoup de temps; il est donc recommandé de commencer au moins un an à l'avance à rassembler les renseignements et la documentation nécessaires.

Pour faire évaluer vos diplômes : Une fois que vous aurez choisi les établissements qui vous intéressent, vous devriez écrire directement à leur service des admissions (pour les programmes de 1<sup>er</sup> cycle et les programmes d'études collégiales) ou leur service des admissions aux études supérieures (pour les programmes de 2<sup>e</sup> et 3<sup>e</sup> cycle) pour obtenir des renseignements détaillés sur la procédure à suivre ainsi que les formulaires à remplir. Ce service vous indiquera quels documents vous devez fournir, si vous devez les faire traduire et les critères d'admission pour l'obtention d'un permis d'étude. La décision de l'établissement vous sera normalement communiquée dans les quatre à six mois suivant la date limite de dépôt des demandes; le délai peut varier d'un établissement à l'autre.

Certaines provinces et territoires ont aussi mis en place un processus de demande d'admission par voie électronique; les personnes intéressées peuvent s'en prévaloir en visitant les sites Web suivants :

Alberta :

Alberta Learning Information Service - Electronic Application Service
www.alis.gov.ab.ca/learning/ao/postsecondary.asp (en anglais seulement)

Région du Saguenay—Lac-St-Jean : www.srasl.qc.ca

Exigences linguistiques - La plupart des établissements du Canada exigent un niveau minimum de maîtrise de leur langue d'enseignement (soit le français, soit l'anglais) et font habituellement passer un test de langue à cette fin. Veuillez confirmer les détails pertinents auprès du service des admissions de l'université ou du collège auprès duquel vous soumettez une demande d'admission.

Permis d'études - Nous vous invitons à communiquer directement avec le bureau canadien des visas (ambassade ou consulat) le plus près de vous pour vous renseigner sur les conditions d'admission au Canada. Vous trouverez des renseignements au sujet des permis de séjour pour étudiantes et étudiants sur le site de Citoyenneté et Immigration Canada, au lien www.cic.gc.ca/francais/etudier/index.asp.

Coût des études - Le site Imagine Education au/in Canada au lien www.educationau-incanada.ca, vous aidera à calculer le coût de vos études au Canada. Il contient également des renseignements sur, entre autres sujets, les programmes d'études et les modalités d'obtention des permis d'études.

Canada's Universities

Your Springboard to Success

Looking for an unforgettable experience that will last a lifetime? Got your sights set on a top-quality education and a globally recognized degree?

International students come to acquire the kind of hands-on, 21st century skills they need to thrive throughout their careers and personal lives.

They come because Canadian universities are engines of innovation, fostering a bold spirit of inquiry and creativity. From developing the latest apps to spearheading social innovation in response to community needs, students are putting their ideas into action at universities across the country.

Get the hands-on experience employers are seeking

Applied learning is fast becoming the norm for today's university students. More than half of today's undergraduates participate in research and work-integrated learning experiences – such as co-operative education (work-study program), internships and service learning – that give them the knowledge and skills they'll need to succeed.

Choose from an outstanding array of quality-assured programs

International students in Canada have a remarkable number of options available. Whether you prefer a major research-oriented university in a bustling urban centre or a small liberal arts institution in a quiet rural setting, Canada has more than 15,000 undergraduate and graduate programs to choose from at over 85 publicly funded universities nationwide.

And whatever your choice – from business or engineering to film, multimedia and more – the quality of a Canadian university education is assured by provincial and territorial government charters.

Why choose a university in Canada?

- Caring and supportive professors
- Cutting edge technology and research labs
- Co-operative education (co-op) and internship options
- Opportunities to work on and off campus
- Great campus life
- Academic advisors who provide valuable guidance
- Health services for students and assistance programs offering support for students with disabilities
- Athletic activities and student clubs that connect you with other students
- Career development services and alumni networks to help you meet your goals

Degree options to suit your needs

Choose from a full range of degree options, from three- to four-year bachelor's degrees to master's and doctoral (PhD) degrees. Other options include professional degrees as well as certificates, diplomas and short, career-focused programs.

Many universities offer full-time and part-time enrolment options, as well as cooperative education, distance learning and continuing education. Programs are offered in English and/or in French, while some institutions offer instruction in both official languages of Canada.

Graduate studies in Canada

There are three types of graduate degrees:

A course-based master's degree requires successful completion of specific graduate-level courses and is typically one or two years in duration.

A research-based master's degree requires successful completion of both graduate-level courses and a thesis and is typically two years in duration. You usually select your thesis topic in consultation with your graduate supervisor, although many universities require a statement of research interests as part of the application process.

A doctoral or PhD degree requires the completion of original research and the defence of a thesis that makes a substantial contribution to the advancement of knowledge in your chosen field of study. PhDs usually require two or three years of full-time residency, although it is common to require more time for directed research and writing to complete the thesis portion.

Rewarding research opportunities

When you pursue research in Canada, you become a valued member of a scientific community with a worldwide reputation for excellence and a long-standing tradition of delivering on discovery. Canada's researchers regularly collaborate with world-class partners engaged in groundbreaking work at all levels of study, including the undergraduate level. Close to 50% of publications from Canada are co-authored with other countries—double the international average.

Canada has less than 0.5% of the world's population, but its researchers publish 4.1% of the world's scientific papers and nearly 5% of the world's most frequently cited papers. University scientists performed over $12 billion of research and development in 2014, including nearly $1 billion in research for businesses, helping build their competitive advantage.

Financial support for your endeavours

As an international student, you have access to numerous scholarship and award programs at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Financial aid is awarded based on criteria such as academic success, community involvement, athletic excellence, references from instructors and employers, or purely on financial need. Find out more at ► www.scholarships.gc.ca.

Did you know?

- More than 15,000 degree programs to choose from at 85 publicly funded universities nationwide.
- Institutions ranging from large, research-intensive universities to small undergraduate campuses.

Research that works

- The university sector is the 2nd largest performer of research in Canada after the business sector.
- Canadian universities spin off research-based companies at a higher rate than other countries, including the U.S.

Canada's Study and Work Permits for International Students

Determine your eligibility

If you are enrolled in a study program lasting 6 months or more you must apply for a study permit.

To be eligible to study in Canada, you must:

- Have been accepted by a designated learning institution (DLI) in Canada. A list of DLIs is available at www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/study-institutions-list.asp;
- Prove that you have enough money to pay for your tuition fees as well as the living and return transportation costs for yourself and any family members who come with you to Canada;
- You must be a law-abiding citizen with no criminal record and not be a risk to the security of Canada. You may have to provide a police certificate;
- Be in good health and willing to complete a medical examination, if necessary.

Apply for a Study Permit

You must apply for a study permit from outside of Canada, either online or in person at the visa office responsible for your country or region. A list of visa application centres (VACs) is available at www.cic.gc.ca/english/information/offices/vac.asp.

A document checklist, as well as all necessary forms are available at www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/index.asp. Note that many visa offices have specific local instructions on their respective websites about which documents you must submit with your application. Original documents in languages other than English or French must be accompanied by a certified translation.

A list of countries whose citizens are required to provide in-person biometrics within 30 days of submitting their application is available at www.cic.gc.ca/english/visit/biometrics.asp.

Obtain your study permit

Upon arrival in Canada, you must present all required documents to an officer from the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA). Once you meet all the necessary conditions, a study permit will be issued to you. The list of required documents is available at www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/study-arriving.asp.

Renew your study permit

You can apply to renew your study permit should you wish to study longer. It is important to apply at least 30 days before your current permit expires. More information on how to renew your study permit is available at www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/study-extend.asp.

Work while you study in Canada

To be able to work in Canada, you must be registered and enrolled at a designated learning institution (DLI). You must also get a Social Insurance Number (SIN); more information is available at ► www.esdc.gc.ca/en/sin/before\_applying.page.

Work on and off campus

If you are a full-time student with a valid study permit pursuing an academic, professional, or vocational training program that leads to a degree, diploma or certificate, you will be:

- Eligible to work on and off campus without a work permit;
- Eligible to work on and off campus for up to 20 hours per week during a regular academic session and full time during regularly scheduled breaks;
- Welcome to have your spouse or common-law partner also apply for a work permit.

If co-op or internship employment is an essential part, not forming more than 50% of your program of study, you must apply for a work permit after having successfully received your study permit.

More information is available at ► www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/study.asp.

Stay and work in Canada after graduation

If you have graduated from a designated learning institution and are interested in working in Canada after graduation, you can apply for a work permit under the Post-Graduation Work Permit Program (PGWPP). A Post-Graduation Work Permit may be issued for the length of the study program, up to a maximum of three years. More information is available at ► www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/work-postgrad.asp.

If you are interested in staying and working in Canada on a longer-term basis you can apply for a number of programs, each with its own requirements. These programs include:

The Canadian Experience Class, learn more: ► www.cic.gc.ca/cec

Canada: Scholarships & Bursaries

Undergraduate Level

Most Canadian universities and colleges offer scholarships at the time of admission based on academic merit. These are generally awarded automatically. Several Canadian universities offer India specific awards: see compilation on page 3-6;

President's Entrance Scholarship

Entrance scholarships recognise and support excellent students, and are renewed based on continued excellent performance. Most Canadian universities offer entrance scholarships for meritorious students who have a high admission average and secure at least an 'A' standing in specific subjects. The value of scholarships range between $2,000-10,000. There are also other attractive awards administered by universities or faculties which students can access.

Once students have begun their studies, they may become eligible for scholarships and bursaries offered by universities and individual faculties on the basis of outstanding academic performance.

PhD and Post-Doctoral Awards

The Government of Canada has instituted some very attractive scholarships for scholars at the PhD and postdoctoral levels to attract the world's best and brightest students and researchers to Canada.

- The Banting Post-doctoral Fellowship Program – provides for 70 new fellowships per year, valued at $70,000 annually for two years. www.banting.fellowships-bourses.gc.ca
- The Vanier Canada Graduate Scholarships – provides up to $50,000 per year for three years for world-class PhD students. www.vanier.gc.ca
- IDRC Research Awards – available to students pursuing masters or doctoral studies at a recognized university or having completed a master's or doctoral program at a recognized university. www.idrc.ca
- IDRC Doctoral Research Awards – open to citizens of developing countries pursuing their doctoral studies at a Canadian university. These awards support field research in one or more developing countries. Candidates must conduct their research in areas corresponding to IDRC program priorities and must ensure that their research project aligns with these priorities. www.idrc.ca
- Trudeau Scholarships – available to students who have been accepted or will be accepted into a doctoral program at a Canadian university. The Foundation favours applications of students from developing countries. www.trudeaufoundation.ca
- CIFAR Global Scholars Program – requires candidates to have completed their PhD within the three years prior to the starting date. Individuals currently completing their doctorates are also eligible to apply. Applicants who are in the process of finishing their PhD must provide a letter from their department chair or faculty dean confirming that all degree requirements will be fully completed before the advertised starting date. Global Scholar positions normally are held in conjunction with a university postdoctoral appointment. www.cifar.ca

Mitacs

Mitacs is a unique innovation-driven internship program that provides Indian undergraduate students with three-month research internships under world class researchers at Canadian institutions or industries. Over 400 students have participated in Mitacs since 2010. Alumni of the Mitacs program are provided with a full scholarship to do their post graduate studies in Canada. Mitacs is a Canadian research network with 88 Universities (54 Canadian), 1000 professors, 1500 students and 650 companies. www.mitacs.ca

Killam Scholarships

The scholarships recognize excellence in graduate and postgraduate studies. The awards are offered at four premier Canadian universities: University of Alberta, University of Calgary, University of British Columbia and Dalhousie University. The value of the awards ranges between $20,000–44,000. www.killamtrusts.ca

Sauvé Scholars Program

This unique program is designed to equip, enable and empower a new generation of global leaders. Selected students spend an academic year with access to all resources at McGill University with guidance from expert academic advisors and mentors. www.sauvescholars.org

Corporate Awards

Many private companies and government agencies provide awards that can be applied against study at a Canadian institution. These may be governed and administered by the sponsoring company. Contact the university/college for details.

Loan Programs

Some universities may offer in-course financial aid (loans and/or bursaries) to full time undergraduate and graduate degree students in good academic standing on the basis of demonstrated financial need. Consult individual universities' websites for more information.

Please find below examples of scholarships and awards offered by Canadian universities to international students, including students from India. This is a non-exhaustive list that is updated periodically.

University of Alberta

University of Alberta-India Centenary Scholarship: valued at $20,000 and payable over four years.

University of Alberta First Year Excellence Scholarship: valued at $3,000 and applicable in the student's first year.

"Canada is the top country in the world for studying, visiting, working and living."

– 2015 study from the Reputation Institute

LEARN. LIVE. SUCCEED.

If you can dream it, we can help make it a reality.

Canada offers students like you from all over the world, an opportunity to get a world-class education through more than 10,000 university and 8,000 college programs, offered in both English and French at over 250 institutions. Best of all, you can put what you've learned into action in a rewarding career that opens a wide world of possibilities for a future in our great country.

LEARN

"10% of Canadian universities rank among the top 200."

– The Times Higher Education's 2015-2016 World University Rankings

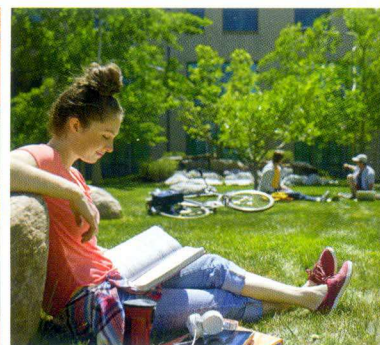

Canada's secondary schools and postsecondary institutions are consistently recognized in top international rankings and our students repeatedly score high on international tests. Our highly qualified educators and field-leading professors have created a learning environment that nurtures creativity and intellectual development.

Canadian universities perform an estimated 38% of all R&D in Canada. Although home to just 0.5% of the world's population, Canada produces 2.8% of global scientific research.

What's more, Canadian universities offer excellent facilities, from wired libraries and Olympic-quality sports facilities, to public concert halls and art galleries.

LIVE

"Canada ranked 1st for Best Quality of Life."

– U.S. News Best Countries Ranking (2016)

Named as the world's most welcoming country by the 2015 Global Nation Brands Index, Canadians are known for being friendly, open and tolerant – since many trace their roots to every corner of the globe.

Ranked first in the 2015 Global Peace Index, international students benefit from all of the freedoms Canadians enjoy: respect for human rights, equality and a stable and peaceful society. It's really no wonder that Canada has some of the happiest people on the planet because of long life expectancy, high average income and robust social ties.

SUCCEED

"Canada ranks 1st among 16 countries for alumni employment."

– HSBC report on the cost of international university education (2015)

International students are often eligible to work both on and off campus during their term of studies. This gives students the opportunity to move beyond academic learning, to apply and test their skills in real workplace settings. In fact, many programs are designed in collaboration with potential employers and offer work placement opportunities to students.
